

A City Preacher on vacation in Cambridge Maryland hears about the sightings of someone or some-thing puzzlingly in the water under Suicide Bridge. The Preacher always curious about the bizarre, the supernatural, the occult, and other mysterious happenings, he quickly travels to the beautiful river at by the Suicide Bridge. Is it really-it this mysterious stranger swimming the river? Some surely believed it is. Unfortunately, the preachers quest rapidly becomes a little more than he bargained for when he gets a little to close and sees it for what it really is-- the true face of a living dead evil with no soul.
